

THE SAN FRANCISCO TAPE MUSIC FESTIVAL 2011

Aaron Finnis will be showcasing a new series of artwork using magnetized computer data tape on paper in the lobby gallery space of the Southside Theater.

Born in the San Francisco Bay Area. He studied Fine Art Practice at Goldsmiths in London and currently works in his studio in San Francisco.

"Recording turns the abstract into the tangible. Once on tape, data, audio, video and still images are simply pieces of plastic. The scene is no longer static but dynamic. It is malleable. It can be cut up, moved around, and pieced back together. Magnetized tape turns the transience in space and time of sound and images into something that is durable and changeable, and this is one of the main drives of my work."

Aaron produces unique works on paper, sculptures and installations using magnetized audio and computer tape.
